

FOREIGNER ATTACKS GIRL NEAR MONARCH; SUSPECT IS ARRESTED

Ignac Dobnyki Held in County Jail to Answer a Serious Charge.

CONDITION OF VICTIM SERIOUS

Brutal Attack Is Perpetrated Along Lonely Road from Street Car Line at Graham's Crossing in the Letting No. 3 Plant Quick Capture.

Ignac Dobnyki, a foreigner, is being held in the county jail on the charge of committing a brutal attack upon Miss Alice Connolly, 15 years old, an employee in the Monarch store of the Union Supply Company. The attack occurred along a lonely spot in the road between Graham's Crossing and Letting No. 3 about 9 o'clock last night. County Detective Smith and a posse of officers took him to the Calontown jail after his capture by Frank McLaughlin a short time after the assault took place.

Miss Connolly had been in Connellville and left for her home at Monarch on the 4.15 street car. As she left the car at Graham's Crossing she was accompanied by a foreigner whom she recognized as a customer at the store where she was employed. The man walked along the road with her for some distance.

Coming to a lonely spot, the man attacked the girl. She fought desperately, and her cries attracted George Fischer. At the time he arrived the foreigner had disappeared. Fischer then called Frank McLaughlin, who finally caught the suspect. Miss Connolly was badly cut and bruised about the face and body. She was taken to the home of George Fischer at Graham's Crossing, where her wounds were dressed. Dr. J. E. Kiser of Connellville was summoned and later took her home.

When found, the girl was unconscious. Her condition is serious, as she underwent the most brutal treatment while in the power of her assailant. It was some time after being brought to the Fischer home before she regained consciousness.

The young woman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Connolly of Letting No. 3 and is well known in Connellville.

TO PAY FULL AMOUNT

Steel Corporation to Make No Deduction for Income Tax.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The United States Steel Corporation will pay the full amount of the interest due on its $15,000,000 5 per cent bonds on November 1. No deduction will be made for the income tax according to the guarantee of the corporation to its bondholders.

In order to save the amount of the income tax from which individuals would be exempted if they were paying the tax themselves, the corporation will ask each holder of coupons when presenting them for payment to state whether the holder is a corporation or an individual exempted from the tax. Corporation holders of bonds are not liable for income tax deduction therefrom.

It has been indicated that the complaints of the Pittsburgh Steel Company and the Wheeling Steel and Iron Company against the 88-cent direct rate to Pittsburgh and Wheeling may be heard at a date in the near future.

WILL RUN WELL

Big Vote in Fayette County Expected for John W. Kephart.

John W. Kephart, Fayette county's candidate for the superior bench, is expected to poll a big vote in Fayette county. Kephart led the entire field of 15 candidates at the recent primary in the districts outside of Philadelphia. The secret of his success is that he adhered to an orphan at an early age. Mr. Kephart made his way up rapidly. At 19 he left soldiers' orphan school to become a telegraph operator for the Pennsylvania railroad. He studied law and was admitted to practice in Cambridge county. He is a brother of H. M. Kephart of Connellville.

SOMERSET MAN VISITS THE SOUTHERN LUMBER FIELDS

Investigates Country for Pittsburg Capitalists Who May Buy a 60,000-Acre Tract.

Special to The Courier. SOMERSET, Oct. 28.—Captain William H. Sumner of the East Side, has returned from a southern trip on which he inspected a 60,000-acre timber tract for Pittsburg capitalists. The timber is located in North Carolina. Captain Sumner reports great prosperity in the southland. He found the lumber industry especially in a flourishing condition.

The largest lumber mill he found was that at Grindlin, N. C., which is operated by the Grindlin Lumber Company, which is cutting an average of 150,000 feet per day. The company is composed of Pennsylvania capitalists. This company, he says, is run on the most systematic basis he ever found in the lumber business and he is recognized as an authority in the line. At Lenoir, N. C., the Grindlin company operates a cable factor as a subsidiary of the big lumber enterprise. Among other things observed by Captain Sumner on his trip is the fact that northern lumbermen are invading the south as a more fertile field for their enterprise. The owners of the Grindlin company, he says, were formerly engaged in the lumber business in the Williamsport, Pa., district, emigrated to North Carolina as the standing timber of the Keystone state has nearly all been transformed into lumber and sold.

DIAZ WITH AMERICANS

Escapes from Huerta Forces Over Mountains of Vera Cruz.

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Navy Department received word today from Admiral Fletcher that General Felix Diaz and three friends are on board the submarine Wheeling in Vera Cruz harbor. This message reads:

"At 7:30 P. M. the American consul reports Diaz and two friends in consultation. At 1 A. M. Tuesday, William, American correspondent, New York Herald, Diaz and friends came aboard Wheeling seeking protection."

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 28.—Antonio Villacorta, chief of the Mexican secret police, telegraphed President Huerta today that General Felix Diaz escaped from the Mexican fleet to the American consulate by running over the roofs of the houses intervening and that he had reason to believe that he was sheltered by Consul Canada.

Those with Diaz were Reuel Chaz, Jose Sandoval, Alexander Williams, newspaper man. They took refuge on board the Wheeling after L. Blum, an American who came from Havana with Diaz, was arrested by the Mexican police.

ST. ELMO LEAVES

Gladly Goes West to Face Trial for Robbing Railroad.

Connellville has become a city as soon as it wants to; or, to put it more properly, it is a city that is always ready to do anything it can to help its citizens. St. Elmo Shultz should worry. St. Elmo departed yesterday afternoon in company with E. C. Bernhart, an officer of the Cotton Belt railroad who came from Columbia, Mo., to take him back to answer a charge of stealing $350 from the railroad company while he was employed by it as a ticket agent at Berks Point. The prisoner said he was not sorry to leave.

Officer Bernhart declared that if Shultz pleads guilty he will receive a sentence of from three to six years, with a likelihood of being paroled after serving three years of the time, or it may be that he will be paroled immediately if he arranges to refund the stolen money.

WANTS REAL REPAIRS

Leaky Roof of City Hall Still Causing Damage to Interior.

Burgess Evans yesterday ordered immediate repairs to the roof of the city hall which has been leaking for a long time, though alleged repairs were made to it about a month ago. The rain of Saturday night drowned out the room occupied by the Board of Health on the second floor and poured through the ceiling into the Burgess office below, causing a lot of damage. The Burgess ordered Chief Bottler to see to it that real repairs are made this time so that no further damage may be caused inside the building.

TWO BOYS BREAK JAIL; SLIDE DOWN TOWER ON ROPE

Daring Escape Is Made by Pair From the County Bastille.

MAKE THEIR ROPE OF BLANKETS

Cunningly Block Locks So They Will Not Fasten and Make Way Through a Trapdoor to the Roof; Escape Is Not Discovered for Many Hours.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Oct. 28.—A daring escape from the county jail was made during the night by two youths who had been confined for some weeks past awaiting charges for minor offenses. The boys are William Hart, 16, and Ace Gordon, 15. Their escape was not discovered until jail Warden Newton Newcomer made his usual round this morning. He saw a rope of blankets over one of the windows, and investigation disclosed that the two boys were missing.

The boys occupied a cell on the third floor of the jail. They filed the lock with bits of metal in such a way that the lock would not spring. This was not noticed by the guard when he put the prisoners away last night. After all was quiet, and about 9:30, it is believed, the boys quietly slipped out of their cells, forced the lock on the door leading to the tower, emerged through a trapdoor to the roof and stood nearly 100 feet above the ground.

Fastening their rope of blankets to a cornice, they slid to the ground. After getting down they threw the rope over a window in order that it might not attract attention. The rope was not seen until Warden Newcomer discovered it this morning.

The two made their escape in the same manner in which Frank B. Smith escaped from jail some years ago, following his arrest for the murder of his father and brother-in-law. That was sent to jail on September 27 on a commitment of Squire Baldwin of South Brownsville, the charge against him being the theft of liquor. Gordon was committed from Uniontown on October 15 on a surity of the peace charge.

County Detective John Smith immediately began a search for the runaways and it is believed they will be apprehended before much time has elapsed.

STAGE MONEY-DAYS NO FINES WHILE BURGESS EVANS IS ON THE JOB

Lee Scott offered Burgess Evans a $2 bill when fined in police court this morning for being drunk. The Burgess examined the bill and found it was "stage money."

He passed it back. Then chief justice passed sent back to the cell and the incident was passed.

Scott protested that the institution was "just as good" as the real article, but failed to convince the Burgess.

Strong Drama Pleases Good Sized Audience at the Solson.

"Fine Feathers" pleased a good-sized audience at the Solson last evening. The cast was capable, and so was the scenic equipment.

The play is typical of Eugene Walter and the dialogue sparkling. The ending isn't so satisfactory, but Walter doesn't always consider the feelings of the audience.

MARTIAL LAW REIGNS IN COLORADO FIELDS; OUTCOME OF STRIKE

Governor Intervenes After Day's Rioting in Which Two are Killed.

10,000 TROOPERS ORDERED OUT

Militia Will be Called Upon to Patrol Vast Territory; Strikers and Others Engage in Desperate Battle During a Blinding Snow Storm.

By United Press.

DENVER, Oct. 28.—Martial law was declared today in the Colorado coal fields where 8,000 men are on strike after a day's rioting in which two Greek strikers were reported killed and five deputy sheriffs wounded at Herpinville late yesterday afternoon.

Governor Ammons ordered 10,000 men to proceed at once to the coal fields and restore order, and in order that there may be no laxity in the enforcement of his orders, he will go to the scene in person.

Three troops of cavalry, two battalions of artillery and one company of infantry left at 6 A. M. for Trinidad, where they will be joined by five companies of infantry from Southern Colorado which left earlier in the day. Five hundred more infantry will arrive from the northern section tonight. The militia will be called upon to patrol more territory than the state of Maine.

Coal strikers and deputy sheriffs have been battling since 6:30 A. M. at Delacru, Hastings, Herpinville and Tabor, camps near Ludlow, according to advices received by Governor Ammons at 9 A. M. The fight is being conducted in a blinding snowstorm but so far as is known there have been no fatalities. The militia has not reached the scene.

COLONEL SCHOONMAKER MAY HEAD ROCK ISLAND SYSTEM

Vice President of the "Little Giant," Widely Known in Region, to Go Up.

Colonel James M. Schoonmaker, vice president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, is to be made president of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, according to the rumor sent to emanate from higher up quarters yesterday. Colonel Schoonmaker left Pittsburgh early yesterday on a trip of inspection of the Monongahela and Youngstown divisions of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, and was found last night in his private car at Evansville. "Yes, I heard that report, but not officially," said the Colonel. "Therefore, I can not make any comment on it. I received my information yesterday morning from New York, before I left Pittsburgh."

Colonel Schoonmaker has long been an admirer of the Rock Island, and sees great possibilities ahead for the road. "A short time ago," he said, "I made an extensive inspection of this road and studied it closely. I found that it has a decided promise. A fact which lends the rumor verisimilitude was the announcement yesterday that important changes in the personnel of the Rock Island will likely follow the directors' meeting in New York tomorrow. J. J. Quinn, president of the road, and David G. Reid, chairman of the board."

At Evansville yesterday Colonel Schoonmaker confirmed reports that the Monongahela railroad's extension, and a portion of the Buchanan & Northern, would be operated on November 1. He predicted train service to Morgantown by the first of next January.

It was stated that if the Baltimore & Ohio railroad does not surrender its holdings in the Buchanan & Northern, as required by the West Virginia law, the line will be operated under a lease to the Monongahela.

AFTER HER TROUSSEAU

Mason-town Woman Declares Amorous Lover Took It When Jilted.

Mary Smith, believed to be from Mason-town, hovered around police court this morning entreating officers visitors, reporters and other frequenters of the place to help her recover her trousseau, an article she had bought in preparation for her marriage to Oris White. And therein lies a tale.

About a week ago White tried to get a marriage license but he met with refusal on every hand because of the "simple" fact that he could not qualify as being able to support a wife, being minus both arms. This depressed both parties to the would-be marriage and the result was a quarrel, after which they agreed to separate, he going his way and she hers, forever and anon.

White, however, took the trousseau with him, on his way, and according to Mary, has it at his boarding house on Highland avenue. The police advised her to enter suit before a judge.

INDUSTRIAL FAIR IS OPENED AT ARMORY; EXHIBITS ELABORATE

Merchants Have Attractive Booths; Displays are Extensive.

BAND CONCERT IS A FEATURE

Tenth Regiment Musicians Present a Snappy Program and Introduce Two Clever Solists Who are New to Connellville; Will Last All Week

The Industrial Fair, conceived and carried out after a prodigious amount of work by the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church, opened in the Armory last night in a manner that argued well for its success. The formal opening was with an address by Harold M. Irons, assistant city solicitor of Pittsburgh, who spoke briefly and appropriately to the occasion, saying some especially kind things of the women in charge of the exposition and of women in general.

The Tenth Regiment Band, under the direction of J. W. Buttermore, rendered a concert during the evening, and solos were contributed by Helen Belle Rush of Dawson and John L. McCabe, a new arrival in Connellville. Both performed splendidly and will be heard from in the future.

The exhibits that went to make up the exposition far surpass those of the first exposition of a few years ago. The booths were prettily decorated, each with a different color scheme. Several of them were not completed in time for the opening last night but all will be in shape tonight. The number of visitors that wandered about admiringly was highly satisfactory, and it is expected that even larger crowds will be present on the remaining nights. Among the interesting displays are the following:

Domestic Department: containing exhibits of fancy needlework by Connellville women, all of them pretty and daintily executed. Mrs. W. J. Eberhart and Mrs. W. G. Keifer are in charge.

Hand painted china, with various pieces done by Mrs. H. T. Bengel, Mrs. L. S. Michaels, Mrs. Ralph Hyatt, Miss Mayne Brinkman, Mrs. E. S. Matthews, Mrs. W. W. Holmes, Mrs. J. L. Stader and Miss Evans of Uniontown.

Carls and Antiques Department, which in itself is well worth a visit to the exposition, containing as it does priceless relics of former times and interesting specimens of far-away lands, loaned from the collections of Connellville families. Among them are a piece of the first Atlantic cable; a shawl from the Panama Canal Zone, made of raw silk; skeletons of sea horses from the coast of China; leaves from a rare tree in the Orient of wonderful velvet texture; a curious carved champagne cork, done by Lang, who played in Christmas in the original Passion Play at Oberammergau; a very old Bible owned by A. W. Todd; an account book containing an entry in 1803; a club used in the war between Peru and Chili; and many others equally interesting. The department is in charge of Mrs. W. L. Long.

Refreshment Department: a prettily arranged lunch room where delectable eatables are served by a corps of women under the direction of Mrs. George C. Hoffman.

Candy Department: a display of home-made candies and dainties, not for sale but for sale by Mrs. Lucy Hyatt and Mrs. W. R. Long.

Fancy Work Department: a collection of other articles made by town women and exhibited by Mrs. Lucy Davis and Mrs. J. G. Dick.

A collection of original cartoons the property of Mrs. J. H. Patterson, Dispatch, drawn by Artful Goodwin, occupies a position to the right of the main entrance to the hall and lined about the walls are other original displays by the following local merchants:

Bel Telephone Company; Huston's Drug Store; toilet articles and perfumes.

Pittsburgh Safe Company: a miniature safe which is to be auctioned off on Saturday to the highest bidder, bids to be deposited in the hall and not opened until that date.

William Sellers: a gas heating plant of novel design.

Hooper & Long: shoes.

Koenigs' Windsor Pharmacy: drugs and candies.

A. Hecht: Thor Electric Washer.

J. W. McClaren: men's furnishings.

A. H. Kurtz: jewelry.

The Goodwin Company: cleaning.

H. Kobacker & Sons: men's and women's apparel.

Arnold's: furniture exhibit.

Chicago Studio: photographs.

A. S. Storey: wallpaper.

The Horner Company: men's clothing and shoes.

TUESDAY EVENING, OCT. 23, 1913.

REPUBLICAN DUTY AND REPUBLICAN INTEREST.

Among Conneltsville people this fall the chief interest in politics is at home. We are about to emerge from borough to city government, and we are called upon to elect our first city officials under a new and untried form of city government. We must be prepared if under these circumstances we are to neglect other portions of the ticket but WE CANNOT BE EXCUSED IF WE DO NEGLECT THEM.

In the county and in the state there are important offices to fill. Two judges of the Superior Court are to be chosen on a non-partisan ballot. The voter may vote for one, though four are nominated, and the two highest will be declared elected. The wise purpose of this law is to remove this choice as far as possible from political influences.

In Fayette county, two Poor Directors and one Jury Commissioner are to be chosen. The Republicans present candidates in every way worthy of Republican support. They were nominated at an open and unbiased primary election. They are the free and untrammeled choice of the party selected from a number of aspirants by every reasonable rule of partisanship and every righteous sentiment of citizenship they merit the united and hearty support of all good Republicans.

Not only should these candidates be elected because of these facts, but also because of the moral example it will set in the great and good work of reunifying the Republican party, making its fight against Democratic domination effective, and enabling it to REASSERT AND RESTORE THOSE WISE POLICIES OF GOVERNMENT WHICH MEET THE APPROVAL OF REPUBLICANS OF ALL FACTIONS.

The Republican party suffered its first great reverse in sixteen years because of a deplorable factional quarrel among its leaders. The party was wrecked on the rocks of disunion. The people's interests were sacrificed to political ambitions. Neither Taft nor Roosevelt should have been nominated after the unkind manner in which they bowed each other out at every crossroads during the primaries of 1912. Unfortunately, both of them were nominated under suicidal conditions; and in the graves of their unworthy ambitions were buried the beneficent public policies under which this nation has been so prosperous and progressive.

It is the present duty of Republicans of every degree to drop factional prejudice or interest and lend themselves unselfishly and unreservedly to the task of restoring Republican conditions. One of the first steps in Fayette county is to elect the regularly nominated Republican ticket, not only because it is worthy but also because ITS ELECTION WILL BE NOTICE TO THE POLITICAL WORLD THAT THE REPUBLICANS ARE GETTING TOGETHER FOR THE BATTLE OF 1916.

Pennsylvania will elect a full state ticket next year. It should be a Republican victory. Just as the election in Fayette county next week should be a Republican victory, and for the same cause, namely, the proper alignment of the party for the supreme struggle of 1916. Pennsylvanians are more interested in that election as CITIZENS than they can possibly be as PARTISANS. Our industrial life, which is our very soul and sustenance, is made or marred by the presence or absence of certain Republican policies in the statehouse. REPUBLICANISM SHOULD BE SUBMORGED WHEN SELF-PRESERVATION IS AT STAKE.

The only avenue ever offered for the existence of the Roosevelt or Washington party is that it is a PROTEST AGAINST BROSSELM. While its methods look suspiciously like all other political movements, and its leadership resembles much of the broom complained of, yet, granting all its claims and assuming the entire virtue of its purposes past and present, it would be well to remember that whatever broom may have existed in Pennsylvania was shattered with a single sweep of the Republican arm at the primaries in April, 1912, thereby demonstrating with startling conclusiveness that there can be no LEADERSHIP WITHOUT THE APPROVAL OF THE PEOPLE. NO BROSSELM WITHOUT THEIR CONSENT, NO RULE BUT THEIR OWN.

These facts demonstrate that there is no longer any necessity for a Party of Protest. Its further exploitation by a handful of near politicians for purely selfish purposes should be rebuffed. The most effective opposition is that of silence and neglect. The magnificent shell encloses a shrunken and withered organism in the last stages of violence. Let it pass in peace and be forgotten as soon as possible. Let the attention of the people be given to THE RESTORATION OF THE SHATTERED REPUBLICAN PARTY, NOT TO THE URAVE OF ITS UNFORTUNATE MISERABLE.

The Republican party is too great and its mission too transcendent to be sacrificed on the pagan altar of local faction. Republicans without favors to ask for themselves, but desiring only the blessings of common peace, perity, have had enough of such folly. IT IS TIME TO REBUILD. The Republicans of Fayette county must by their portion of the first course of this fair structure upon their own premises. They must BEGIN THIS REFORM AT HOME by electing their ticket next Tuesday.

The Only Democratic Organ of Old Fayette is exerting itself to make a reputation for noisy draying. It first discovered that the Republican candidate for Mayor of Conneltsville would not get the old vote; it is now convinced that he will not get the young vote, because a young man sitting next to the editor in a barber chair said so. We presume we shall next hear that Candidate Kurtz has lost the "Purity League" vote, and that the "Practical Politician" vote has deserted him. He will then have nobody but the Lord on his side, but he will still be strong enough. In the meantime we have not heard of the Republican candidates for Council and Controller are losing any votes of any kind.

Between the burglars and the bad boys, Conneltsville is in a state of constant alarm. We need some sleuths.

The People shall rule.

Republicans should remember that this year they do not vote by placing a cross-mark in the first square on the ballot, but in the third square. The political enthusiasm of 1912 knocked us out of the race, but the get-together movement this year will get us back all right.

It is no crime to be 36 and no disgrace to be 40, but it seems to be more or less criminal and disgraceful to be in politics especially as a candidate in Conneltsville. However, there is a measure of consolation to the candidates in the thought that the voters are not seriously considered by sober-minded citizens.

Let the People rule.

Conneltsville's new business vent re- indicates that new business is coming to the community.

A good town is known by its good theatrical attractions, and Conneltsville usually has them.

President Wilson does not seem to think it needs the best to deal with in dealing with the Mexican situation.

The city campaign is rather quiet. Even the advertisements are slow. In the modest and backward borough of Uniontown, the candidates are liberal in the use of newspaper space. In Conneltsville, with a few exceptions, they seem to be gunshooting it. It is most wise to advertise.

The Republican county ticket is worthy of Republican support because right politically and personally.

The People do rule.

Conneltsville has no boy candidates, but the columns of the Conneltsville Democrat yesterday looked as if it had some boy editors on the staff.

YOUR TAXES.It Isn't What You PAY, But What You GET That Counts.

Are you getting full value today for the taxes you pay? What percentage of your money is being wasted? How much of it is bringing you no return, in better streets, better police and fire protection, better municipal conditions.

The Republican-Washington candidates believe too much of the city's revenues are being wasted. If elected, they pledge themselves that the city will get ONE HUNDRED CENTS for every DOLLAR expended.

These candidates are business men. They are not men of great wealth, but they have made successes of their own affairs, and they propose applying the same sound methods to the city administration.

Doesn't that appeal to you, as a taxpayer? It should.

Style Plus Quality

The Foundation of Every

Dunn Coat and Suit

There is one important feature of our Coats and Suits that is not looked after so persistently by other stores as we do, and that is the backing up of their style and beauty with quality. In fact, this is not simply overlooked by most stores, but is purposely omitted in order to make price an attraction. It has become pretty generally known that Dunn's Coats and Suits possess unusual quality and are always good for at least two season's wear, which not only proves their economy in the end, but gives you quality and tailoring that retains its style, newness and fit much longer than the ordinary garment. We want you to come in and look them over. Ask to try them on, observe their exclusiveness of style, note the thorough tailoring and don't forget the quality. We want you to feel at home in this store and get acquainted with our merchandise. You cannot help but be impressed with the fashionable exhibit of our Cloaks and Suits.

BLANKETS.

The woman who has a want in these should buy now and be prepared for extreme weather which we know is not far off.

Cotton Blankets are shown by us in white and gray, full size, at $1.00 to $2.00 in all plain or striped borders.

Wool Blankets are shown in all white or pink or blue combination, full size and priced the pair at $1.25 to $6.00.

COMFORTS.

For a real addition to the beauty of your bed room to say nothing about their positive comfort in cold weather, allow us to suggest comforts. Silkoline covered at $1.50 to $3.00; satin covered at $1.00; silk and silkoline at $2.00. Satta with silk borders and filled with down at $10.00 and silk filled with wool at $10.00. Beautiful colorings and best materials.

Centmeri Kid Gloves

The extraordinary value of this exclusive line of Ladies' Kid Gloves is worthy of mention. All the newest style features are embraced in this line and for appearance and durability they are second to none. For years we have had the agency for Centmeri Gloves with satisfactory results. A strong number among these is our special $1.00 dress glove in black, white, tan, brown and gray, that is ahead of any glove on the market today.

CHURCHES HOLD AN ELECTION ON BURGESS BATTLE

Sensational Political Act is Staged by the Churches of Scottsdale

IN FIGHT AGAINST W. N. PORTER

Harry Langhrey Endorsed by 113
Votes Against Walter L. Schaffer Who Gets 87 Votes; Men Made an Agreement on the Outcome.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, Oct. 28.—"Langhrey 113 votes, Schaffer 87 votes, and blank ballot cast" was the announcement last evening at the close of the most remarkable political act that was ever staged in either county, and which resulted in the endorsement of the churches for Harry Langhrey as candidate for burgess. The endorsement came at the close of an election held in the Chamber of Commerce hall. The burgess fight this year, as usual, was a three-cornered affair, Harry Langhrey nominated by the Democrats, Walter L. Schaffer by the Washington party, and W. N. Porter by the Republican party. Their names will appear in this order on the ballot.

Recognizing the strength of Porter his opponents cast around to reduce the fight to one man against Porter believing that their chances for victory would thus be assured. The moral issue was raised and Porter was condemned, past, present and future by those aligned against him. A meeting was held about 10 days ago by the ministers and three laymen from each of the churches. The resolution was passed that there should be an activity of Christian people in the selection of the chief magistrate of the borough. A vote was taken at that meeting and the result was 16 for Schaffer, two for Porter and one for Langhrey. The resolution was taken before the boards of the churches and another meeting was held the night following with the meeting badly split up.

The matter lay quiet for about a week when Mr. Langhrey wrote a letter to one of the committee having the vote campaign in charge saying that under the circumstances he was willing to withdraw from the fight if shown that the people were stronger for Schaffer than for him. Mr.
Schaffer signed the same proposition which was brought before the churches Sunday evening. Some of the pastors reading the letter entire, others merely announcing that a meeting would be held at which a vote would be taken.

There was a jam of people at the Ball Hall at the meeting time. But they were distributed as the crowd believed the "free" hall. A representative of each church was on the outside and marked on each ticket when the denomination of the voter and this ticket was also signed by the name of the one giving the vote the ticket and the identification were scanned at the door by R. P. Perry, Indie Walter Miller and Thomas Mellison wrote down the names of each voter and Eugene Anderson kept the ballot box. The vote was strictly a secret one.

The election lasted until 5 o'clock.
Then the committee retired to count the votes. The committee was composed of Rev. H. W. Miller, J. A.
Barnhart, J. P. Evans, Rev. W. J.
Muir and W. H. Schleicher. At 10 o'clock the sealed up ballots and registry books were delivered into the custody of J. A. Addison, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., whose offices were near by. The announcement was made by Reverend Muir that the books and ballots were to be retained until after election and then they were only to be opened in the presence of the whole committee.

According to the agreement Walter L. Schaffer is eliminated from the contest. He will appear on the ballots which are already printed, the action being taken too late to have a formal withdrawal.

There are 200 other voters to be heard from on election day.

CHAPTER XVIII

A RUSE.

When Rosalie Le Grange named the Hotel Delidrich to the taxicab chauffeur, her object—she followed hard but an old instinct—was to cover her tracks in case of many contingencies. She dismissed the cab, however, at the north door of the Delidrich, walked through the lobby to the west entrance, walked out on Broadway, walked a block south. There, spying another taxicab whose meter displayed the red sign "vacant," she commenced to drive it, and announced her real objective.

"Central park—go fast," she said. During the drive she stared straight ahead and talked in low undertones to herself.

This was an old habit, born of her half-believed, half-announced "mediumship" in her days of active practice. In these later days she was still wont to argue out in soft phrases of her lips the problems of her soul. One who had overheard these scattered phrases now would have known that she was still fighting for a decision.

"Well, ain't the world been good to me lately?" she was saying as they swept into the Park entrance. "Can't I afford to take a chance with myself—my happiness?" then, "Oh, how will Martin look at it—Martin?"

A little later, as the taxicab took the rolling drive beside a park lake, she was saying:

"I couldn't bear it if he was sent to the chair—I could never live through it—I'd die, too." It seemed that upon this statement she made her decision, for she talked to herself no more until the taxicab rolled up before the Casino and stopped. And as she rose, her smile broke out for the first time in that passage. But it was a grave smile, whose softness did not reach to her eyes—as though one smiled with the humor of God at the tragic comedy in this world.

"An' she called me a traitor—an' she'll always believe it, what's more," she said.

The grass of the Casino, so gay and colorful in summer, lay blue and bare now under the cold November wind and fading afternoon light, so that Rosalie, sensitive to physical impressions what with the tenacity of her soul, shuddered as she passed from the steps to the door. Within, only a few lights were on; the restaurant, plainly, was letting business fade away toward its winter quiescence. Near the door sat a couple; then two men; and there, in the remote corner, was a glint of golden hair which could be only Betty-Barbara. Opposite sat the form of her mother—where Betty-Barbara still thought to be Betty-Barbara. He was smiling just then, and his hands were playing in swift, expressive little gestures. As Rosalie Le Grange waved aside the head waiter and took her interminable journey across the room, it occurred to her that however she finished and lived this complex web of hers, there might be the last smile on his lips for many a weary day.

He sat facing the door; he perceived her first; he rose with an expression of real surprise and pleasure. "Why, Mrs. Le Grange? How did you get here?" he said. But now his eyes caught Betty-Barbara. She, too, had risen, as one who sits at last after long strain of repression. Her color came and went; she was looking at Rosalie and then back at Estrilla.

"Miss Lane," said Rosalie in a quiet, meaningful voice, "we'll excuse you. Take your coat, dear."

Estrilla opened his mouth as though to protest, made an inarticulate sound, stopped. His eyes were on Rosalie.

"What does this mean?" he asked. "It means first that you had better sit down," she said. "The waiter's looking this way. A man in your position can't afford to make a scene to a public place."

Estrilla sank with an unsteady motion into his chair. At this physical support, he seemed to grip his nerve. "What do you mean by my position? Why do you come this way—why?"

"Listen. First of all, I'm your friend. Get that right away—I'm here to help you. An' I'm in a hurry. So are you. The police have your sister. By tonight they'll be after you."

Estrilla gripped the arms of his chair; the knees shuddered erect back. He motioned his lips once or twice with his tongue.

"Remember!" went on Rosalie under her own "no scene. Hold on to your self. Make 'em know the last thing you ought to do. Is the bill paid? All right. Now get your hat. Now put on your sister. Yes, your gloves an' your stick!" Estrilla obeyed her docilely. "Now come with me into the park—it's safer, because we can watch."

"But my sister—I don't care for my self—I must go to—"

"I'm here," said Rosalie Le Grange, "to do what I can for you an' your sister both. Now come. I tell you—when you keep on being a fool!" At this dash of mental cold water, he rose. Rosalie walked close behind him, ready to support him should he stagger. Outside a park foot-policeman walked slowly down the path. Estrilla is now, started, hesitated. "Not unless you make a scene!" cried Rosalie, anticipating his thought. "I'm not arresting you—can't you understand that?" She hurried him to a lonely park bench, half hidden in the shrubbery. When she turned to look him full in the face again, his color was normal; he had regained his grip. And he spoke with a touch of his old boyish insolence.

"This is a little melodrama you are staging, Mrs. Le Grange? Am I the hero or the villain?"

"I expected you to be suspicious an' try to bluff this through," said Rosalie in her most matter-of-fact tone, "that's why I stole this note an' brought it here." She had been keeping her hands in her muff. She drew them out, now, and handed him the vital paper:

"I am telling to the police all I know of my part and my brother's part in the death of Capt. John H. Hanks. I have confessed that we followed him to America to get my jewels, and that it was my brother Juan who appeared to have stabbed him."

"MARGARITA PEREZ."

He read it. As he looked up he was still master of himself, but Rosalie could perceive behind his mask a kind of vibration, an inner agitation of all his nerves. But his will still mastered his voice.

"Margarita Perez—who is she?"

"She is your sister. You are Juan Perez—not Estrilla. You are from Port of Spain. You came here to help low Captain Hanks—"

"Where did you hear this?" queried Estrilla, with a pitiful attempt to put sarcasm into his voice.

several of her companions helped themselves to the fruit in no sparing and distinguishes it from all others to such an extent that there is no comparison, and yet it is exactly this quality of superiority that explains the great success and popularity of Mr. Howe's Travel Festival, which comes to the Solisoon Theatre tonight.

It was with particular reference to this pleasing characteristic of the new program to be presented here that the Porting presentation dramatic critic said: "So fine are the reproduction and so realistic was their presentation that the audience was compelled to feel itself a part of all it witnessed."

"SINS OF THE FATHERS."

Another triumph as great as the "Chameleon" by a master of fiction and dramatic is "The Sins of the Fathers," which will be the attraction at the Solisoon tomorrow afternoon and night. Thomas Dixon, great in all his many callings, who gave to the stage "The Chameleon," has succeeded that sensational success with still another, a tender and passionate plea for the purity of the white race.

"Sins of the Fathers" deals with a problem which threatens and is a menace to our civilization. The difficult theme is handled with the greatest skill and the production is one of the most gripping of recent years. The play is a story from Mr. Dixon's own observations of the unspeakable tragedies of the mingling of the white and black races. The skill of the master of fiction and dramatist is everywhere noticeable throughout the production. It is handled with such consummate skill that there is never a word or thought to offend.

"THE BACHELOR'S BABY."

Mimi Yvonne, who is being starred with Henry Buckler in Francis Wilson's comedy success "The Bachelor's Baby," the attraction at the Solisoon Theatre Thursday, October 30, was taken for a few days' outing in the country where they had a rather pre-tentious orchard. Little Mimi with

Scene from "The Bachelor's Baby."

Mimi Yvonne took her to task for the taking of the fruit when the little one said, "what are you worrying about, mother, didn't I leave more fruit on the tree than I took off?"

THE COLONIAL.

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER."

The voice of the people is the voice of the theatrical manager, and the voice of the American people is up-lifted again this season to proclaim

"The Chocolate Soldier," the supreme type of an evening's enjoyment, where music and drama are blended in the charming operetta.

The Whitney Opera Company, equipped with splendors of scenery and costume that realize Mr. Whitney's determination to make the present production rival that of previous seasons, will present "The Chocolate Soldier" at the Colonial Theatre on November 4.

Though operas in no small number have fled from Vienna to win fame through America's partiality for the beauties of Viennese music, none of them has ever disturbed the success and popularity of Oscar Straus' fascinating musical embodiment of the exploits, loves and comic deeds of the Chocolate Soldier as set forth by George Bernard Shaw in many a situation of sparkling and vigorous comedy, in his satiric romanee, "Arms and the Man." Shaw's merry things at times honor notions of war, heroes, courage, love, and so forth, and the dramatic encounters of his people in which they display the harmless weaknesses of human nature at every turn, furnish a lively background for the blithe and joyous melodies of Straus. The company, with astonishing ease, has found a musical vehicle for every emotion of the piece. rollicking fun, tender sentiment, anger, sadness, patriotism, all have been set to delicious strains. "My Hero," "The Letter Song," "That Will Be Lovely" and a score of others have endeared themselves to hundreds of thousands in every part of the land.

The Whitney Opera Company is a rarity among light opera organizations for stars are unknown in its ranks, and every member is an artist of equal importance. Many of them have been recruited from grand opera.

So Says Embroid Specialist. So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, with the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid fermentation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, probably the best and most effective cure for acid stomach known, should be taken at a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of proper antacid, such as bicarbonate of soda, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—W. P. P.—Adv.

Will Close at 9 P. M. Open Until 10 P. M.

This order is effective Saturday, November first, and rules the closing hours for the Saturdays following. The State of Pennsylvania enacted a law that becomes effective the first day of November, this year

To protect the public health and welfare, by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments, with respect to the hours of labor and the condition of their employment, by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work; and other measures that confer a distinct boon to women of practically all occupations.

We are very glad that this welfare movement has been enacted into a law. We are in perfect accord with all its provisions that lighten women workers' work.

This new law is a reflection of the spirit that has long ruled this store—the welfare of EVERY member of the store family—worked out through methods not COMPELLED by any man-made law.

The Assembly of the State we live in has made the dream of many business a reality. There were unnumbered merchants, manufacturers and heads of in-situations with ideals for the betterment of their workers, compelled by competition to keep pace with establishments that cared not a rap for their human machines.

This law makes the unwilling comply; they can't evade it; they can't chance it. This law gives women workers a success from the daily grind that extended far into the night; it slackens the pace of money-mad concerns that recognized nothing but new ways of speeding-up their jailed employees.

It is a grand law—a righteous law, and may it live long.
